Hongkong, September 15th, 1888. THE cadet system has given Hongkong some excellent officials, but it has been at a might have been secured by other means which would have been free from the defect of imposing upon the colony the support of a number of young gentlemen for whom i has operated we may take the now obsolete Master. This was created in 1866, not because there was any work for an Assistant Harbour Master to do, but because at that time Sir HERCULES ROBINSON'S batch of respect desirable to encourage the acquisities about the game of 36 beasts implies that he cadets were coming forward for service, and appointments had to be found or couragement in the shape of increased created for them. The post of Assistant Harbour Master was created accordingly and after being filled first by one cadet and purpose. In this respect, however, the most then another it came to be looked upon as a permanency. When the cadets were all otherwise provided for, a paval gentleman, Mr. J. P. McEurn, was appointed to it and, on Mr. McEuen's resignation in order to take command of the Shanghai Police, Commander Rumsey was sent out by the Colonial Office. Clearly if there was any work at all for an Assistant Harbour Master to do a Naval officer would be the most suitable man for the post, especially as he | this port was further postponed. The Colonial Secretaryship cannot be included in the cate-24 gory, that being an appointment that is filled by the Colonial Office on considerations entitely distinct from the rules supposed to govern the cadet service of this colony. For the Registrar-General's office probably a cadet trained in the colony may be the most suitable selection that could other offices we have enumerated. Police Magistrates, barristers-at-law ought to be selected, and there would be no diffiappointed to the Magistracy, to the great all they can do is to note it; they are innot been trained to weigh evidence. The calits, therefore, as a rule, instead of being ussful to the colony, seem only to be in the very great expense. Equally good officials way, keeping out men better qualified to discharge the duties of the positions to which they are appointed, besides baving to be provided for at the public expense when there are no bond fide positions vacant. ty, and 30 Republicans opposed it. Senator Morgan declared that if England had acted in the same way as America had done in connection with the Fisheries Treaty the United States would have regarded it as a declaration of On LONDON .-

WASHINGTON, 23rd August. President Cleveland in a message to Congress states that the action of the senate in refusing to ratify the Fisheries Treaty, compels him to pursue a policy of vigorous relations calculated to inflict loss. He advises that the free transit of bonded goods for Canada over United States territory be suspended, and that tells be levied on Canadian vessels using American lakes, rivers, and canals. He says it is evident that the in- On New YORK .tended diplomatic efforts to prevent vexatious interference with the commerce between America and Canada will not succeed at present, and that he will not horitate to enforce retaliatory measure according to the powers already conferred. The Government had only half performed its duty by merely protecting citizens at home, while it allowed them to be imposed upon and humilisted by the unfair and overreaching dispositions of other nations. He hopes the policy he indicates will be enforced calmly and firmly.

LONDON, 23rd August. The Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, Secretary, of State in the United States, is not in any way dejected at the rejection of the Fisheries Treaty of the Senate. He will revert to the treaty of

I am a labouring man, with a large family depending on me for support, and Douglas Steamship Company, Limited - $60 per I might almost as well be in my grave as to be laid on my back in a hospital unable to lift a hand for months, or God only knows how long Right at this point I had a thought flash across my mand like a streak of sunshine in a cloudy day. I had heard and read a good deal about Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and I resolved before consenting to be taken to the hospital, I would try that well-known remedy. On this I gave up the doctor's medicine and began taking the Syrup. Mark the wonderful result! I had taken but three doses within twenty four hours when I was seized with a fit of coughing, and threw up the phlegm and muons off my chest by the monthful. The Syrup had loosened and broken it up. Continuing with the Syrup, the racking pain, which I believe came from the bitter and poison humours in my blood and joints soon left me entirely, and I felt like going to sleep, and I did sleep sound and quiet. Then I felt hungry, with a natural appetite, and as ate I soon got strong and well. Singapore Insurance Company, Limited-$15 Ifell I could leap through the air with delight In a week I was able to go to my work again.
